SELECTED PROJECTS

UNIFYING A GROWING BRAND

In 2015, ThinkGeek was acquired by GameStop and in a matter of months we began to open physical retail stores. I proposed that we create a brand book to ensure a consistent brand experience online and in stores. We formed a team and created a document that is now used to train employees across the organization.

BUILDING COMMUNITY ON INSTAGRAM

After several years of seeing ThinkGeek's Instagram account go virtually unused, a coworker and I asked if we could take over the account. In three years we took it from 11,600 followers to 240,000. We increased engagement at an even faster pace, achieving more than 1,000% growth. We were able to take advantage of a fast-growing platform to build community and meaningfully connect with our fans.

KICKSTARTING A PASSION PROJECT

I was a member of the marketing team that helped a friend launch the MiniMuseum Kickstarter project. The project raised $1.2 million (goal: $38k), making it one of the top 50 Kickstarter projects to that point. The project attracted press from dozens of news outlets, including the Washington Post, Gizmodo, and Fast Company. With two subsequent releases, we raised a total of $3.6 million on Kickstarter.

DATA ANALYSIS AND REPORTING

While leading the creative team at ThinkGeek, I have built tools to provide real-time insight into my department's work. Dynamic workload dashboards help us to optimize our workflows and give us an accurate picture of projects currently in the pipeline. I take the initiative to send monthly and annual reports to stakeholders highlighting major projects and quantifying the volume and velocity of my team's work.
